

Ethan Arnall

Ethan was born in Blue Ridge, Georgia, to his parents Drs. Philip and Lydia Arnall. He grew up in Blue Ridge where he was homeschooled from 1st through 12th grade. Ethan is a 4-year ROTC scholarship recipient. After graduating from high school, he attended the University of North Georgia and was in the Corps of Cadets from 2016 to 2019. Ethan is in the Physics and Engineering Dual-Degree, transfer program. That is why, after 3 years at UNG, Ethan transferred to the Georgia Institute of Technology where he now majors in Mechanical Engineering. In 2019 he completed Advanced Camp and Air Assault School. When he graduates from GT, he will commission into the Army as a 2nd Lieutenant. He plans to go into the Army Corps of Engineers.

